ALBANY STATE UNIVERSITY HISTORY

Albany State University was founded in 1903 as the Albany Bible and Manual Training Institution by Joseph Winthrop Holley. The institution provided religious and industrial education for African Americans in southwest Georgia. In 1917, the institution became a state-supported, two-year college with a board of trustees. The school was known at that time as Georgia Normal and Agricultural College and offered programs in agriculture, industrial education and teaching training. In 1932, the college became a part of the University System of Georgia, under the jurisdiction of the Board of Regents, and in 1943, it became a four-year, teacher-training institution and assumed the name Albany State College. At the same time, Dr. Holley retired and Dr. Aaron Brown became president.

Albany State grew tremendously from 1943-1996 when it became Albany State University. Five presidents served during this period, Dr. Aaron Brown (1943-1954); Dr. William H. Dennis (1954-1965); Dr. Thomas Miller Jenkins (1965-1969); Dr. Charles L. Hayes (1969-1980); and Dr. Billy C. Black (1980-1996). Dr. Portia Holmes Shields became the first female president in 1996, and she was followed by the university's eighth and current president, Dr. Everette J. Freeman.

ALMA MATER

Gladys Ward McCullough Sapp '46

Albany State, we dearly love you
Whose walls are inscribed with knowledge so true
So solidly built on this foundation
A union of work and inspiration
Teacher for those who strive for success
To thee we give praises above all the rest.

Thy jubilant colors of blue and gold
We'll ever honor, ever behold
Thy name is an anchor upon life's sea
And sailing, we put our trust in thee
In thee, dear school, we see all the best
To thee we give praises above all the rest.

CODE OF VALUES

Statement of Values Preamble

We, The Albany State University community, affirm the value of a peaceful and purposeful community, founded on the moral and ethical integrity of students, staff and faculty. We commit ourselves to the spiritual values on which Albany State University was founded. We expect that our commitment to mutual responsibility and spirit of cooperation will create a community that is orderly, caring and just.

The purpose of this statement is to affirm those basic principles that underlie the rights and responsibilities of the university community.

Respect for: WORTH OF THE INDIVIDUAL

We value the intrinsic worth of every individual in the community. Our respect for other individuals includes an appreciation of cultural backgrounds different from our own, an understanding of different attitudes and opinions, and an awareness of the consequences of our actions on the broader community. Those values can be violated by behaviors such as harassment, hazing, sexual misconduct, assault, and disorderly conduct.

Respect for: COMMUNITY, DIVERSITY, AND INCLUSIVENESS

We value Community, Diversity and Inclusiveness by fostering an environment free from racism, sexism, ageism, heterosexism, homophobia, ableism and xenophobia. The University has a number of policies and statements that reinforce the campus community's commitment to diversity, civility, and equity.

Respect for: SELF-DISCIPLINE

We value personal responsibility and recognize the individual's needs for physical, intellectual, spiritual, social and emotional wholeness. We value the full development of every student in terms of a confident and constructive self-image, of a commitment to self-discipline and of a responsible self-expression. Gambling, disorderly conduct, possessing, consuming or distributing alcohol, intoxication, and using or distributing illegal drugs are just a few examples of behaviors which violate the value of self-discipline and will not be tolerated at Albany State University.

Respect for: ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

We value a campus community that encourages personal growth and academic development in an atmosphere of positive influence. We affirm the necessity of academic standards of conduct that allow students, staff and faculty to live and study together. We value the fair and efficient administration of these standards of conduct. Academic dishonesty and fraud can violate these values.

Respect for: PROPERTY AND THE ENVIRONMENT

We value the rights and privileges of owning and using property, both personal and University, and the benefits of preservation and maintenance of property and of our natural resources. In our stewardship of property, we recognize the accountability of our actions to the future of the Albany State University community. Stealing and being in the possession of stolen or lost property, vandalism, setting a fire and arson, tampering with fire and safety equipment, possessing firearms or weapons on campus, possessing or using fireworks on campus and unauthorized entry are examples of behaviors which violate this value.

Respect for: COMMUNITY AUTHORITY

We value our privileges and responsibilities as members of the University student community and as citizens of the community beyond the campus. We value the community standards of conduct expressed in our system of laws and value the fair administration of those laws, including university, municipal, state or federal laws. These values are violated by aiding, abetting or conspiring to engage in value violations, violating residence hall guidelines, reckless behavior, lewd and indecent conduct, insubordination, unauthorized and/or unruly demonstrations, driving while impaired, habitually offending motor vehicle rules and regulations, creating a nuisance by talking, yelling, singing, and playing a musical instrument or other electronic device loudly enough to disturb members of the university community. All of the above may constitute a student violating a city, state or federal crime.

STUDENT INFORMATION

GENERAL

STUDENT DRESS AND APPEARANCE

Dress, grooming, and personal cleanliness standards contribute to the morale of all students and visitors of the university. Students are required to use good judgment in their choice of attire and are expected to conduct themselves in a way that best represents themselves and the university. The purpose of the University is to conduct an education program, and the University considers this program second to none in its importance and believes it should be so regarded by the students. Thus, a mature attitude should be demonstrated by the dress and appearance of students while attending classes or engaging in other academic pursuits throughout the campus community.

Students are expected to maintain the same standards of dress and personal grooming throughout the university community at all times. Obvious violation of these standards, such as failure to cover the body appropriately and adequately or to wear shoes to class, in dining facilities, in university offices, and at other appropriate places and times, may subject a student to disciplinary action.

Students are expected to wear proper dress, both on and off campus. Therefore, it is inappropriate for students to go to class, breakfast, or any other meal in sleepwear, whether as a prank or by demand of a student.

CLASSROOM CONDUCT

Students are expected to conduct themselves in a mature manner that does not distract from or disrupt the educational pursuits of others. Students are expected to act responsibly and to conduct themselves in the classroom and outside the classroom in a manner that does not disrupt the learning process. A climate of mutual respect and courtesy should exist between faculty and students. However, students must recognize that professors, by virtue of their positions, must exert a measure of authority in the classroom. Students should respect this authority. Should a professor determine that a student's conduct is being distracting or disruptive, the professor may impose the student's immediate removal from the classroom until the student can conduct himself in an appropriate manner. If the professor is unable to obtain cooperation of the student, the ASU Police Department can be contacted for assistance and/or the student may be referred for disciplinary action. Disciplinary action may result in a student being withdrawn from class and, in extreme cases, dismissed from the college.

CIVIL LANGUAGE

Albany State University (ASU) is a marketplace for ideas, conversations, and opinions. The University has high expectations that students will engage in critical discourse on a wide range of topics in conversations that take place during formal and informal discussions. Also, the University has high expectations that students will engage in civil discourse. The use of profanity, indecent, and lewd language has no place in a University environment. The University recognizes that students have a constitutional right to express themselves. However, as a community of learning and as learners, civil language is paramount.

ELECTRONIC DEVICES

Cellular phones, iPods, and other PDAs are often times important means to communicate. These devices, however, can be disruptive for the user and others when activated in classrooms, laboratories, libraries, business offices, and in certain other public areas. The University asks students and others to be mindful of this and to operate cellular phones, iPods and other PDAs accordingly. As a result, it is requested that these devices be turned off when in the classroom and laboratory, library, business offices, and quiet lounges, as they can interfere with the climate for learning.

CHANGE OF ADDRESS

Students are responsible for notifying the Office of the Registrar of any change in address. The mailing of notices to the last address on record constitutes official notification. A student can also complete a change of address through ASU's website.

LOST AND FOUND

From time-to-time, members of the University misplace and lose items such as keys, cellular phones, glasses, books, identification, purses and wallets. The University expects found items to be taken to the ASU Police Department immediately. When a student misplaces or has his or her residence hall room key stolen, a report to the resident director, Office of Housing and Residence Life or the ASU Police Department must be made expeditiously. Found items are logged in and stored at the ASU Police Department for safe keeping for a limited time. Some items may also be found/located in the Office of Student Life and Activities.

STUDENT INSURANCE

Theft and Fire. One of the greatest challenges facing colleges and universities is theft in residence halls. From time-to-time, incidents of theft in the residence halls are reported to officials at Albany State University. Inasmuch as students are strongly encouraged to follow safety instructions and guidelines described in this handbook, it is the University's expectation that students who live on-campus will purchase theft and fire insurance. Such insurance information is available in the Office of Housing and Residence Life at a very reasonable cost.

Injury and Sickness. Although students pay a health fee each semester, the fee does not pay for student health insurance. If a student is not covered under their parents' health insurance, then the insurance plan should be sought by the student immediately.

PARTICIPATION ON UNIVERSITY GOVERNANCE

Albany State University takes seriously its commitment to stimulate and maintain a student-centered environment. The institution is focused on and is committed to putting students at the center of University affairs. In the most literal sense, a student-centered environment is one where the faculty and staff exceed student expectations, ensure student satisfaction, and demonstrate that students matter. Central to the University's student-centered philosophy is the role student's play in institutional decision-making, where appropriate. This is primarily achieved through the Student Government Association (SGA), though this does not diminish the significance of other registered student organizations or the administration's right to involve other students in decision-making processes. As the representative for students, the SGA appoints students to serve on appropriate University-wide committees. Students are empowered and encouraged to voice their opinions through such committees. Additionally, the SGA is encouraged to make reports and recommendations to any of the University's directors, department chairs, deans, vice presidents, and the president of the University.

PEACEFUL PROTESTS, DEMONSTRATIONS AND PICKETING

Students are free to engage in peaceful, responsible, and orderly protests, demonstrations, and picketing; however, such activities must not disrupt the academic and business functions of the University. Protests, demonstrations, and picketing are subject to appropriate regulations concerning time, place, and manner through the Office of Vice President for Student Affairs or his/her designee. POLICY ON FREEDOM OF EXPRESSION

No rights are more highly regarded at Albany State University than the first amendment guarantees of freedom of speech, freedom of expression, and the right to assemble peaceably. ASU remains firmly committed to affording every member of the University community the opportunity to engage in peaceful and orderly protests and demonstrations, which do not disrupt the operation of the University. However, such opportunities must be provided on an equal basis and adhere to the basic principle of the University being neutral to the content of any public demonstration. In order to achieve this objective, while at the same time insuring that the University fulfills its educational mission, the University has the responsibility to regulate the time, place, and manner of expression. The designated area for freedom of speech and expression is restricted to the Pedestrian Mall, the Square and the Amphitheater of the new Student Center.

Any person or group who desires to use the campus for an assembly or expression event must submit completed request form to the Office of Student Affairs at least 48 hours in advance of the event.

No stand, table or booth shall be used in distribution, except in the Student Center and only with the permission of the Office of Student Life and Activities. The University maintains a position of neutrality as to the content of any written material distributed on the campus under this policy.
- C.) Marches – Marches may take place on streets and sidewalks of the campus. The Vice President for Student Affairs or his/her designee must approve plans for an event of this nature at least 48 hours in advance.
- D.) Provisions – In order that persons exercising freedom of expression not interfere with the operation of the University or the rights of others, the following shall apply without exception to any form of expression and will be used to evaluate any plans requiring approval. Reasonable limitations may be placed on the time, place and manner of speeches, demonstrations, distribution of written material, and marches in order to serve the interests of health and safety, prevent disruption of the educational process, and protect against the invasion of the rights of others.
- E.) Events, which may obstruct vehicular, pedestrian or other traffic, must be approved at least 48 hours in advance by the Vice President for Student Affairs or his/her designee.

CENTER FOR THE AFRICAN AMERICAN MALE

Mission Statement:

The mission statement of the Center for the African American Male (CAAM) at Albany State University seeks to enable students to discover their authentic identities by allowing them to achieve their full potential as scholars and assume leadership roles in the community upon graduation. CAAM also strives to develop the image, as well as the quality of life of African American families by addressing the developmental needs, interests, and talents of male collegiate students and youth. It is the ultimate mission of CAAM to improve the "TOTAL MAN" academically, spiritually, emotionally, physically, and socially.

Program Description:

CAAM seeks to enable students to discover their authentic identities by allowing them to achieve their full potential as scholars and assume leadership roles in the community upon graduation.

Founded in 1988, by Dr. Billy Black and colleagues, the Center for the African American Male was designed to promote positive influence, education, and growth. Since its inception, CAAM has worked to increase retention, promote a positive self-image, engage in mentorship collaborations and through sponsored research provide critical information relating to African American Males (AAM) in our community.

Moving forward, CAAM stands resolute, not only to create an environment that increases retention of AAM's but also to enhance the academic performance of freshmen males enrolled at Albany State University. Annual statistical analysis and comparison of non-CAAM to CAAM members regarding retention, graduation, and grade point averages rates will occur. In keeping with Albany State University's Strategic Plan, Goal #3, CAAM will hire a Community Engagement Specialist to increase our community involvement with initiatives that serve AAM's. Member's lives will be enhanced by working with the community, by mentoring, tutoring, Saturday Academies, and Male Dialogues. CAAM will augment and foster mentoring opportunities within our service area for males in surrounding school systems via Saturday Academies, Male Dialogues, Youth Summits and Conferences. This contributes to advancing African American Males not only at Albany State University, but also within the City of Albany and the Southwest Georgia region. Continually nurtured and supported in positive ways, members of CAAM are becoming successful leaders and contributors to a more just society. CAAM works with and provides resources and information to all African American Male initiatives in our twenty-four county service area.

CAAM also provides mentoring services to its members as a means to assist with retention and academic achievement. The hiring of a Faculty Advisor will aid in the creation of individual partnerships between CAAM members, faculty, staff and student life. This appointment, will aid in the development of at least ten individual partnerships within our university community. We will monitor the academic success of students through the Grades First Early Alert system and work closely with the Center for Academic Advising and Retention. CAAM will work vigorously to expand its scope and range on a continuous basis to ensure it remains the key resource and leader in advancing the lives of African American Males in Southwest Georgia.

THE MISSED MEAL FACTOR

Many students do not eat every meal that is available to them during the University year. The Campus Food Service is not charging students for every meal. The University knows that it will have a certain number of meals not eaten (Missed Meal factor). The cost of the meal eaten is kept at a minimum by rebating this savings back to the students. Many students have the misconception that the Campus Food Service is making a profit from the “Missed Meal Factor”; while in reality, this is considered in the pricing structure.

The rules and regulations are designed to insure that:

1. You receive the best quality food and service possible.
2. Freeloaders are kept out.
3. Your meal card is not used by someone else.
4. Stealing is discouraged.
5. A respectful atmosphere is created in our dining hall.

The DSSP seeks to ensure the University makes “reasonable accommodations and adjustments” that will permit physically and learning disabled students to fulfill their academic requirements and to assure that disabled students are not effectively excluded from programs because of the absence of auxiliary aids and support systems. Program services include, but are not limited to:

As a mission, the Division of Student Affairs, in collaboration with Academic Affairs and other divisions, is working to build and preserve a university community that allows students to reach their full intellectual, physical, social and spiritual potential. The division promotes a value system that includes integrity, self management, academic achievement, personal and community engagement and diversity.

Programs promoted through the division enable students to develop individual characteristics through participation in self-governing organizations, cultural events, student engagement and social interchange.

FINANCIAL AID

Albany State University offers financial assistance for students in the form of loans, grants, scholarships, and employment. It participates in the five basic student aid programs supported by the U.S. Office of Education: Pell Grant, Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant, Federal College Work-Study Program, Perkins Loan, and the Federal Direct Student Loan Program.

The financial aid program is administered in conjunction with the national established policy and philosophy (the parents are the primary and responsible source for helping a student to meet his educational cost). Any financial assistance offered to students will be filling the gap between the students' own resources and the cost of attending the University.

Financial Aid is awarded on the basis of need, scholastic achievement, character and promise of success. Applicants must bear in mind that it is impossible for the University to provide aid for more than a limited number of students. Under no circumstances is a student (new or renewal) to come to the Institution expecting to receive aid if she or he has not made formal application for it or been notified that such aid has been granted.

Financial need will be evaluated each year and an appropriate increase or decrease in the amount of the assistance offered will be made. For the purpose of this re-evaluation, a new Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) will be required. Applicants may complete the FAFSA two ways: manually, by completing the renewal or initial hard copy of the FAFSA (which takes approximately 4-6 weeks to process) or electronically on the Web at www.fafsa.ed.gov (which takes approximately 2 days after receipt of the signature page). Applicants (and their parents if dependent students) are encouraged to apply for PIN numbers, which will eliminate the mailing of a signature page. It takes approximately 24 hours to receive a PIN number. Request the PIN number prior to applying to FAFSA on the Web. Students are responsible for securing the necessary forms and applying by the April 15 deadline.

After the two-week period, the temporary permit may be renewed for another two (2) weeks as a continuation of vehicle repair. For members who do not have access to BOSSCARS, vehicle registration assistance may be obtained by visiting the ASU Police Department. Parking permits are non-refundable. Permits purchased at the beginning of the academic year (August) are valid for the entire academic year. The fees for parking permits are not prorated.

PARKING REGULATIONS AND VEHICLE OPERATIONS:

All persons operating a vehicle on University property must be properly licensed at all times. ASU identification and driver's license (if available) must be presented when requested by ASU police department personnel. All vehicles and registered operators involved in parking violations may be issued citations. The registered owner/operator of the vehicle is responsible for all fines, late fees and administrative costs or the filing of appropriate appeals for the violation.

The following vehicle operational guidelines are as follows:

- All vehicle operators on University property must be properly licensed at all times.
- ASU identification and driver's license must be presented when requested by ASU police department personnel.
- Pedestrians have the right-of-way on campus, except where traffic is regulated by mechanical devices.
- Under normal conditions, the maximum speed limit on campus is 15 MPH except where posted otherwise. The maximum speed limit in parking lots is 10 MPH; however, vehicles may not be operated at any speed which is excessive for the conditions which may exist as a result of weather, traffic congestion, pedestrians, etc.
- Traffic control signals, devices and directions of Albany State University police officers shall be obeyed.
- All vehicle operators are responsible for maintaining control and safe operations of the registered vehicle and observance of traffic control signs, barriers, and devices.
- All accidents occurring on campus shall be reported to the ASU Police Department before the vehicles are moved. There is a $1.00 charge per page for copies of accident reports.

The fines, penalties and other sanctions will be administered as follows:

- In the case of a vehicle registered with the ASU Police Department, fines and sanctions will be assessed against the operator in whose name the vehicle is registered.
- In the case of vehicles not registered, assessments will be made against the operator if it is determined that the operator at the time of the violation is associated with Albany State University, and in fact, should have registered the vehicle with the Albany State University Police Department.
- If a vehicle is not registered with the University and the operator is not associated with the University, fines will be assessed against the vehicle's owner as listed in the State Vehicle Registration records.
- Assessments will be made concerning unassigned/unidentified vehicles by tag number, permit number, vehicle identification number (VIN), home address, class schedule, enrollment status and also by relevant information associated with the vehicle through the university software system (Banner).

These rules for parking also include the following:

- (a) No parking is permitted within fifteen (15) feet of fire hydrants or street entrances to sidewalks or buildings.
- (b) Reserved parking spaces must be observed at all times.
- (c) Employees may not give another vehicle operator permission to park in a reserved space without ASUPD approval. Only the recipient of a reserved decal will have permission to park in reserved areas.

- (k) Visitor parking spaces will be strictly enforced.
- (l) Motorcycles are not to be driven or parked on the sidewalks.
- (m) Disabled vehicles are to be removed seven (7) days after notification from the Police Department.

ENFORCEMENT AND TOWING POLICY:

It is the responsibility of the motor vehicle operator to find a legal parking space. Lack of convenient space is not considered a valid excuse for violation of any parking regulations. Rain or inclement weather will not alter any of the provisions of these regulations. In general, such circumstances as ignorance of the law, inability to find a proper parking space, or financial hardships caused by fines do not constitute sufficient basis for the approval of an appeal. All crimes that occur on the campus or information pertinent to the safety of the campus community will be reported through news releases and the student newspaper. All fines not paid within a specified time become financial obligations payable to Albany State University. Persons who display a pattern of disregard for parking regulations are subject to revoked parking privileges for one calendar year. Vehicles operated by persons arrested for operating a motor vehicle under the influence of alcohol or other drugs will be towed and stored with a local towing service. Operators of vehicles that have been towed should contact the Police Department for information to assist with the release of the vehicle by the towing company. Excessive noises by car radios, loud speakers, faulty mufflers or cut mufflers are prohibited on campus.

The parking violations and associated fees may be viewed on the ASUPD website. Citations may be paid at the Cashier's Window inside the Academic Building, Monday-Friday, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

- If the vehicle is ticketed, payment must occur within five (5) business days of the date the citation was issued, unless in the appeal process. All fines are to be paid in person at the Business Office, ACAD Building 2nd Floor. A copy of the citation must accompany payment.
- If the vehicle is booted, a $20 fee must be paid in CASH at the ASU Police Department before the boot is removed. If the boot fee is not paid in CASH, the vehicle will be towed.
- Certain areas on campus are designated as TOW zones. These areas include handicap parking spaces and spaces along the curb of Perimeter Road (east side of campus). Parking in an area where the curb is painted yellow and labeled "NO PARKING" subjects a vehicle to immediate tow. If the vehicle is towed, fees are to be paid at the owner's expense to the towing company contracted by ASU.

PARKING TICKET APPEAL:

If a citation is placed on a registered vehicle, the operator may choose to appeal the ticket by visiting the ASU Police Department. Payments and late fees are suspended during the appeal process. When the appeals decision has been made by the ASU Appeals Board, the information is input onto BOSSCARS and the vehicle operator is notified of the decision.

- Appeals will not be honored if completed outside the five-day window.
- The following reasons are not acceptable for ticket appeal:
 - (a) Lack of knowledge of the ASU parking policy.
 - (b) Late for class or appointment.
 - (c) Inability to find a legal parking space.
 - (d) Vehicles parked in areas different from the decal color code.

If the fine is not paid or an appeal is not presented within five (5) days of the issue date, the citations will be considered delinquent and a late fee of $10.00 will be assessed. No further appeal will be permitted. A “HOLD” will be placed on the violator’s records when parking fines are accumulated. Violators who fail to pay parking holds will not be permitted to register for classes or receive a transcript until the fine is paid.

Parking and traffic violations cited on a State of Georgia Traffic Citation by the ASU Police Department must be paid or appealed to the State Traffic Court of Dougherty County.

HOUSING AND RESIDENCE LIFE

Albany State University’s (ASU) Housing and Residence Life (HRL) offers quality units and social skills building programs to ASU students throughout a 10 month academic year and an eight week summer semester. The HRL department is comprised of 9 residence halls: totaling 1582 resident bed spaces or 453,715 square feet, which services approximately 37% of Albany State University’s enrollment of roughly 4500 students. The diverse residential community options, where awareness programs are strategically integrated into daily life, offer each student the opportunity to live within a positive environment that is balanced with learning, diversity, safety, and convenience. Additionally, each resident is provided with an amenity package that includes non-coin operated laundry facilities, study rooms, computer labs, internet connectivity, cable, utilities and multipurpose rooms.

All ASU residence halls are centrally located within a 5 minute walking distance to all academic and recreational facilities. The proximate campus facility foot print is complemented with a housing administrative office that operates extended hours of 8:00am to 6:00pm, Monday through Friday, and 24 hour care provided by a residential, bachelor degree holding professional staff and Graduate Assistants who live in each building. Each member of the HRL management staff is required to have 3 or more years of experience in student development, or a related field, and complete programming that allow them to activate their experience and training to assist in developing residential students. Each building is also staffed by student employees, called Resident Assistants, at a ratio of 35 students to 1.

Albany State University is a public institution within the University System of Georgia. ASU’s Housing and Residence Life department is a component of Albany State University and is managed by University employees.

The University System of Georgia requires all students to be current with immunizations and to submit documentation of their current immunization status. Immunization records are submitted to and maintained in the office of Student Health Services. Students who do not submit this information will have an immunization hold placed in their record. If a hold is placed in the student’s record, registration for the following semester will be denied until the information is submitted. A health history will be completed at the time of the first visit to the center.

A Student Health Fee is included in the registration fees and provides unlimited visits to the Health Center. Services are provided on a walk-in, first come first serve basis unless there is an emergency as deemed by the staff. The health fee does not cover admission to hospitals or payment to drugstores for filling prescriptions. Any expenses incurred for treatment or care by the hospital or local physicians will be the financial responsibility of the student and his/her parents/guardians. Student medical insurance is strongly encouraged.

Albany State University reserves the right to request a student to submit to a medical examination whenever advisable. Registration may be denied any student, prospective or enrolled, who, in the judgment of University Health Services, is experiencing an illness that would endanger the health of others or for which the university cannot provide services.

VETERAN AFFAIRS

The Office of the Registrar also assists students in applying for their veteran's educational benefits. The Veterans Affairs Coordinator is required by federal law to monitor a student's enrollment each quarter and report changes and discrepancies to the Veterans Administration, as well as to ensure that all students receiving such benefits are making satisfactory progress toward their chosen degree. Although ASU does not prohibit students from joining and participating in online communities as individuals, please be advised that any online behavior that violates the Student Code of Conduct will be treated as inappropriate misconduct and treated as such (Please review the Student Code of Conduct for possible violations and sanctions).

If you have any questions concerning the interpretation of the Social Media Policy or the Student Code of Conduct, contact the Judicial Affairs Coordinator, Angelnique A. Jordan at (229) 903-3606. She is located in the new Student Center, Office of Student Life & Activities, Orange Zone.

HOW TO IMPROVE YOUR CHANCES OF SUCCESS

1. TAKE RESPONSIBILITY FOR YOUR OWN EDUCATION.

- A. Access a copy of the ASU General Catalog, Student Handbook, and Student Code of Conduct. All can be found either on the ASU website or on an interactive CD. If you are interested in obtaining a copy of the CD, see Dr. Jolly in the Office of Counseling & Disability Services or call 229.903.3610
- B. Start a file in which you will keep all the paperwork you receive from the University (e.g., grade reports, check-sheets, advisement forms, etc.). This allows you to keep an accurate record of your activities and will make it easier to correct any problems, which may arise;
- C. Carry with you a planning calendar with a note pad to record important information, names, dates, times, places, email addresses and telephone numbers;
- D. Make appointments to see your advisor and professors if you have questions or need information. Be on time for your appointment. Always call to reschedule or cancel if you are unable to keep your appointment;
- E. Learn the names of important people on campus and within the community. Write down their names and numbers in your planner.
- F. Make a note of important dates for registration, study groups, snack and study, exams, when papers are due, etc.
- G. Take advantage of pre-registration opportunities rather than leaving registration to the last minute, when the courses you want may be full;
- H. Remember that there is a form for nearly everything and failure to complete and submit forms (on time) may create future problems;
- I. Schedule sufficient study time. Expect to spend 3 hours studying for each one hour spent in class;
- J. Learn to listen. Write everything down. Read. Read. Read. You may miss important information when you don't pay attention to important information, which is provided to you. Be sure to read all information, which is distributed to you, posted on campus, and published in campus publications.

2. ASK QUESTIONS

- When you don't understand what you should do next;
- When you can't find what you're looking for;
- When you don't understand a point being made in class;
- When you need more information; and
- When you don't know where or how to locate information and/or services.

3. ATTEND CLASS REGULARLY.

It is your responsibility to keep up with your course requirements. Attending classes on a regular basis allows you to ask questions, and keep up with materials, which may not be mentioned in your textbooks. If you miss a class, it is up to you to get notes, assignments, etc. and make arrangements with the professor to make up the work.

4. KEEP UP WITH YOUR STUDYING AND ASSIGNMENTS.

Schedule study and assignment preparation time into your daily schedule. Last minute cramming is not an effective way to learn. Start work on papers, assignments and projects early. Always carry copies of your course syllabi with you.

5. TAKE NOTES IN CLASS AND FROM YOUR READING ASSIGNMENTS.

Rewrite your class notes and take notes while you are reading your text assignments. Utilize highlighter pens and colored pencils to organize and point out important points.

6. WRITE DOWN QUESTIONS.

As you are reading assignments, taking notes, rewriting notes, and preparing assignments, be sure to write down any questions which come to mind. Remember to ask your professor about these points at your next class meeting. Don't wait to ask questions.

7. DON'T BE AFRAID TO ASK FOR HELP.

Ask for help immediately if you don't understand, especially if you feel that you need tutoring or out-of class assistance. Everyone needs a little help now and then. Utilize available services and resources on the campus and in the community.

As part of a "zero tolerance policy", ASU will take disciplinary action for any and every alcohol, drug, weapon, sexual misconduct, hazing or gang related violation on campus. ASU will also take disciplinary action for many of the violations reported off campus, provided these violations have a connection to the campus. It is a violation of university policy for a student to disturb someone else's ability to study, sleep or live peacefully. (This also means that other people's inappropriate behavior should not disturb your study, sleep, or ability to live peacefully);

It is a violation of university policy for a student to hurt or endanger another student through drinking.

ALBANY STATE UNIVERSITY OMBUDSMAN OFFICE

HAVE A PROBLEM?

HAVE A COMPLAINT?

HAVE A GRIEVANCE?

NEED HELP?

DON'T KNOW WHERE TO GO OR WHO TO TURN TO?

The University Ombudsman is an independent, confidential resource available to assist students, faculty, and staff in resolving problems, complaints and other issues when normal processes and procedures have not worked satisfactorily.

WHAT DOES OMBUDSMAN MEAN?

The word “ombudsman” has Scandinavian origins, and was first used as a public office in Sweden. According to one scholar, the term refers to “a person who has an ear for the people.” In American colleges and universities, the office is often referred to as an “agent for justice” within the complex institutional systems of higher education. Webster’s Dictionary defines ombudsman as “one that investigates reported complaints and helps to achieve equitable settlements.”

OMBUDS PRINCIPLES

The Office of the Ombudsman is built on three principles: Confidentiality, Neutrality, and Independence. Confidentiality is essential because it gives people the security they need to discuss sensitive issues by reducing any possible risk they might feel. Neutrality enables the Ombudsman to see and appreciate both sides of the problem and places him or her in the best possible position to promote solutions that will be accepted by all parties involved. Independence gives the Ombudsman the freedom to act in whatever way he or she feels necessary to help achieve outcomes that are fair, just and equitable.

WHAT THE OMBUDS OFFICE DOES

- Handles complaints, concerns and grievances.
- Listens non-judgmentally and anonymously.
- Provides information on available resources within the University.
- Opens avenues of communication, investigate complaints, and gather information.
- Serves as a neutral party to solve problems and resolve conflict.
- Identifies problem areas facing faculty, staff, and students and recommend changes to university policies and procedures.
- Assists visitors in developing options.
- Assists parties with decision-making.
- Coaches on how to effectively express concerns to others.
- Explains University policies and procedures.
- Helps untangle bureaucratic red tape.
- Conducts forums, trainings and workshops

PROVISIONS

The office provides a private meeting place for anyone who wants to speak confidentially. The staff does not identify who has or has not used the services of the Ombuds Office unless permission is granted to identify an individual who has asked us to contact someone. To the extent practicable, the ombudsman will not share any information with anyone except in cases of serious threat or harm.

INTELLECTUAL DIVERSITY

Albany State University respects the views and perspectives of all participants in the learning environment. As such, the University welcomes intellectual diversity and the free exchange of ideas in a non-confrontational environment. If you feel that you have been treated unfairly on the basis of your personal beliefs or affiliations, please contact the ombudsman. The Ombudsman reports administratively to the Vice President for Student Affairs.

COUNSELING AND TREATMENT SERVICES

Therapy is a collaborative process, which involves the development of a unique helping relationship. As therapists, the staff serves as facilitators in assisting the client to clarify their sense of direction, set realistic goals, and better understands their personal concerns. Individuals, groups and couples are given assistance in understanding their feelings and behaviors, their relationships with others, their particular situation, choices, and decisions. Discussion of whatever is important and relevant enables individuals to grow towards greater freedom in making mature choices and taking responsible action with themselves, relationships, family and studies.

Students may obtain professional counseling services on a confidential basis by either calling Counseling Services at 430-4667 or by arranging an appointment with one of the professional counselors. The following services are available: Assessment, Referral, Individual therapy, Group therapy, Support groups, and Psycho Educational Group Counseling. For additional information, please contact Dr. Stephanie Harris-Jolly or Mrs. Jennifer King. The Counseling Services Department is located in the new Student Center, Green Zone. The normal hours of operation are 8:00 a.m. – 5:00 p.m. on Monday – Friday. Services are also provided after hours and weekends (usually during emergency or crisis situations). ALL SERVICES ARE FREE AND STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL.

If an international student falls below the full-time status requirement, he or she may be subject to deportation.

STUDENT JUDICIAL SYSTEM

STUDENT CODE OF CONDUCT

I. INTRODUCTION

Albany State University has an obligation to clarify those standards of behavior that it considers essential to its educational mission and its community life. The university shall protect its educational purpose, provide for orderly conduct of these activities, and safeguard the interest of the university community. As a result, the university has established standards and procedures. These disciplinary procedures used by the university are considered part of its educational process and reflect the philosophy of peer education and evaluation. Hearings or appeals conducted as part of the process provide due process; are not courts of law and are not subject to many of the rules of civil or criminal hearings. Because some of the violations of these standards are also violations of law, students may be accountable to both civil authorities and to the university for their actions. Disciplinary actions at the university will normally proceed notwithstanding any civil or criminal proceeding. Except as expressly adopted by this code, the procedures of criminal and civil courts shall not govern disciplinary proceedings or decision, unless significant prejudice to an accused student or to the university may result.

II. Authority

The Board of Regents and the University have the responsibility to require acceptable conduct on the part of students at Albany State University. The Vice President for Student Affairs (VPSA) has been charged with this responsibility with the assistance of the Judicial Affairs Coordinator, who serves as the Judicial Officer for the university. The VPSA or his/her representative may hold hearings and administer disciplinary penalties in accordance with these procedures.

In addition, students who would like to have an advisor/attorney present will need to notify the Judicial Affairs Coordinator of the person's name and contact information at least two business days prior to the scheduled hearing. This prior notification will provide opportunity for the Judicial Affairs Coordinator to request university counsel's presence at this hearing.
- G. Written Decision – To have a written response reporting the results of the hearing.
- H. Appeal – To appeal a decision of a hearing officer or judicial board except when admitting guilt and a minimum sanction is given.

DISRUPTIVE & THREATENING STUDENT BEHAVIOR

Occasionally, Albany State University experiences threatening and disruptive behavior on the part of some students, a trend paralleled nationally at other campuses. As a faculty or staff member, one may find himself or herself having to contend with a disruptive or emotionally disturbed student. Albany State University is specifically interested in creating an intellectual and safe environment where students can realize their academic and social potential.

Student behaviors that one may encounter range from simple disruptions in class, to ongoing harassment, to verbal and physical threats. Students may exhibit disruptive behaviors in a classroom or office. As a result, faculty or staff members may find themselves on the receiving end of a student's anger or frustration. Often, the behavior in question constitutes a violation of ASU's Student Code of Conduct and can be addressed in accordance with the Student Judicial System procedures. However, it is rarely enough to simply hand a situation over to the Office of Judicial Affairs when a student has caused significant disruption within a classroom or department. The department or office involved may also need to address issues related to the perceived safety of its faculty and staff, as well as the well-being of other students.

These guidelines are designed to:

- * Assist your department in thinking through its response to situations in which students may behave in unusual or unpredictable ways.
- * Help you handle an actual threat.
- * Assist you with referral and protocol procedures. When your department has prepared its faculty and staff adequately for such situations, the chances of serious disruption will be lessened.

DEFINITIONS

A student is considered disruptive when he or she engages in behaviors which interfere in a significant way with your normal teaching or administrative duties as a faculty or staff member. Disruptive behavior may sometimes threaten or endanger one's physical or psychological well-being or safety, or that of others. Disruptive behavior can assume many forms. It may be:

- * A student in class who persistently arrives late or leaves early in a manner, which is disruptive to the regular flow of the class.
- * A student who talks incessantly while a professor is delivering a lecture.
- * A student who loudly and frequently interrupts the flow of class with inappropriate questions or interjections.
- * A student who becomes belligerent when confronted about his or her inappropriate behavior.
- * A student who verbally or physically threatens another faculty or staff member, or another student.
- * A student who writes a threatening letter, email, or leaves a disturbing message on voicemail.
- * A student who misuse social media in a threatening or disruptive manner (i.e. twitter, instagram, facebook, you tube, etc...).
- * A student who attempts to contact a faculty, staff or student in inappropriate ways.
- * A student who displays behaviors indicating an inappropriate romantic or other obsessive interests.

RESPONDING TO DISRUPTIVE BEHAVIOR

Disruptive and threatening behavior has been categorized into three different levels.

- * The first level, which is the least serious, encompasses any situation that can be handled informally between you and the student, leading to a prompt resolution.
- * The second level involves an ongoing problem or a more serious incident in the classroom or office environment. In these situations, you may consult with Student Affairs. If necessary, a Student Affairs assessment team will assist you in evaluating and resolving the situation.
- * The third, and most serious level is reached when there is immediate danger of some kind. If this occurs, you should immediately call the ASU Police Department at (229)430-4711. If it is necessary to deal with a student's behavior during class, one should calmly but firmly inform the student that the behavior is disruptive and ask that it be stopped.
- * If the student does not follow your directive, you have the option of asking them to leave the classroom. Call the ASU Police Department if the student refuses to leave the classroom.
- * If you feel unsafe being alone with the student for any reason, request that a colleague or your department chair attend the meeting.
- * If the student disrupts the class several times but not to the extent of a pattern developing, please contact the Office of Judicial Affairs.

WHEN A COMPLAINT IS FORWARDED TO THE OFFICE OF JUDICIAL AFFAIRS

Disorderly Conduct is any offensive or annoying act that disrupts the peace. It includes but is not limited to conduct, which is offensive or annoying to others or is disruptive to the rights of others.

When you report disruptive behavior to the Office of Judicial Affairs, following receipt of your complaint, the student will be required to meet with an appropriate representative in the Office of Judicial Affairs to discuss his/her behavior. In some cases, the complaint can be resolved without further involvement on your part. In other cases, it may be necessary to convene a panel and conduct a formal review of the matter. Should this happen, you will generally be involved as the complainant at the review.

The purpose of a disciplinary review is to discuss the facts in the case, to hear the accused student's perspective, and to determine an appropriate disciplinary response. Disciplinary decisions take into consideration the needs of the campus community and of the accused student.

For more information, refer to the Student Code of Conduct.
