Radiologic Science

Admission Criteria

Completed application forms must be RECEIVED NO LATER THAN NOVEMBER 1st of each year. The application is complete only when the information requested is received. Students are responsible for making sure their application is complete. Radiologic Science program applications may be picked up in the Darton College of Health Professions Division Office (J-210 on West Campus) or downloaded from the ASU website.

To be considered for admission to the Radiologic Science program, the applicant must:

1. Meet all of Albany State University's acceptance requirements.
2. Have a minimum cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 2.5 on a 4.0 scale.
3. Have satisfied all Learning Support requirements.
4. Take the TEAS test. Two attempts is the maximum number of allowed attempts. A time period of six weeks must elapse between attempts. Please see the program web page TEAS V link for additional information on this test. The TEAS score report must be included with the program application.
5. Submit a completed Radiologic Science program application (one-page form provided in the application packet).
6. Submit additional optional documentation to be evaluated for points prior to deadline (specific information describing this optional documentation is provided in the following section).

To progress successfully through the curriculum and function as a practicing radiologic technologist after graduation, the individual must have:

- a. Visual acuity with or without corrective lenses to view radiographic images, physicians' orders, patients' charts, identifying markers on patients, equipment manuals, to identify respirations of patients, etc.;
- b. Hearing with or without auditory aids to obtain patients' history by interview, to hear audible signals produced by imaging equipment, etc.;
- c. Physical ability to operate equipment (portable and stationary x-ray equipment, stretchers, wheelchairs, patients, immobilization devices, etc.) to sufficiently (minimal impairment of upper and lower extremities) perform CPR, etc.;
- d. Manual dexterity to lift patient while placing imaging device, etc.;
- e. Speech sufficient to communicate with staff and patients in a timely, effective manner.

SELECTION PROCESS

Due to limited clinical placements, the program can only accept a certain number of applicants each year. Admission into the program is competitive based on a points system. Each program applicant is ranked by the Radiologic Science Program Selection Committee according to points accumulated as determined by criteria including but not limited to GPA, pre-requisite course grades, TEAS scores, etc. Additional opportunities for points are provided in the next section. In order to increase one's chances for acceptance into the program, it is recommended to complete all possible opportunities for points. By obtaining as many points as possible, one becomes more of a competitive applicant for the program. Admission into the program is non-discriminatory in regard to race, color, religion, gender, age, disability, national origin, or any other protected class.

Additional opportunities for points include the following:
